RESTORATIVE JUSTICE

Your support creates momentum!

Office of Governor Charlie Baker

The restorative justice circle is expanding, thanks to you. Governor Baker signed a bill on April 13, 2018 that creates a restorative justice option in all criminal courts.

"Viewed as a whole, this bill takes our criminal justice system and makes it better."
— GOVERNOR BAKER

"I know I can count on you to be leaders, partners, and allies in the fight for change."

— ATTORNEY GENERAL HEALEY

Paul Cantrell

Higher visibility: Attorney General Healey, guest speaker at C4RJ's recent benefit, praised C4RJ's advocacy for restorative justice statewide.

20 communities and still growing: Chief O'Connor (R) of Concord welcomed Chief MacDonnell of Winchester as the 20th C4RJ partner police department in April.

C4RJ's Police Council now represents 20 cities and towns.

"This model has a strong track record of success in our neighboring communities, and I'm confident that bringing it to Winchester will provide residents with meaningful and lasting resolutions when they are impacted by certain types of crime."

— CHIEF MacDONNELL
